Course Description

The objective of the course is to introduce you to principles of macroeconomics. As the word macro suggests – it refers to the analysis of the aggregate economy. In this course we will look into the various contemporary macroeconomic issues that an economy faces. This will include macro concepts like unemployment rates, inflation, costs and wages, budget deficits-surpluses etc. We will also see how policy makers use the two main tools at their discretion – monetary and fiscal policy to combating economic fluctuations. Our approach is to understand how a decision maker analyzes a macroeconomic problem (say a recession), why it chooses a particular tool (say monetary easing), and their short-run and long-run impact on the economy.

Exams

The format of the exam will be discussed on the review session prior to the exam. There will be two midterm exams and one Final exam.

Missed Exam/Quiz/Late Assignment Policy

Under unforeseen circumstances, where you are unable to take the exam on the scheduled day, you may petition to receive a makeup exam. To be given a makeup exam you must submit a typed letter with appropriate excuse documentation at least 2 weeks prior to the end of the semester. Your petition must satisfy one of the following: 1) illness or injury; 2) death, injury, or illness of an immediate family member; 3) unforeseen special circumstance that prevents you from taking the exam on the scheduled date. If you require a makeup exam and you fulfilled at least one of the requirements for a makeup exam, as described above, please make it known that you will need a makeup exam. All makeup exams will be administered toward the end of the semester at a date and time to be determined. The content of the exam will be comprehensive and encompass all material covered through readings, lectures, and homework assignments up to the date of the exam. No late quizzes or assignments will be accepted for credit.

Assignments

Homework is meant to include both outside and in-class assignments. While working in groups is encouraged, you are responsible for completing and delivering on time your own homework assignment(s). Homework will be assigned during regular scheduled class meetings. No late assignments will be accepted for credit, but are encouraged to be completed nonetheless.

Quizzes

Quizzes corresponding with chapter readings will be posted and are to be completed on Blackboard. Quiz due dates are posted in the course schedule section. Quizzes are released on Blackboard 5 days before they are due. All quizzes are due (close) at 11pm on the due date. You are allowed to take the quiz multiple times up to the due date. Your last attempt score determines your quiz grade. After the due date questions with answers will become available under the “my grades” link.

Presentations

Everyone is required to put together a current event presentation. You will be graded in the areas of communication, analytical skills, and social responsibility. Beginning September 6 two students will each make a 3-5 minute presentation. Choose any article from your favorite current events publisher (WSJ, NYT, Economist, FT, etc.) and apply your economic knowledge to the article. You are encouraged (not required) to put together a Power Point Presentation to guide you through the presentation. Students will be selected at random. If your name is called you are expected to present. If you are absent, late, or not ready you will be given a grade of zero. However, in the unlikely event that your name is called a second time later in the semester you will have the opportunity to override the zero. All student names will be placed in a container and drawn blindly until two presentations take place. Once a name is chosen and a presentation given that name will be taken out of the container. The odds that you will be chosen are one in 70 on the first day and increase as the pool of eligible presenters falls. Presentations will be graded with the following rubric:

Rubric for grading presentation:

Communication: (1 point) Clear expression of ideas and connection with audience interests

Analytical skills: (1 point) Is able to summarize or relate alternative views to the challenges/relationships that arise from data/facts/ideas presented

Social responsibility: (1 point) Identifies patterns of social/civic engagement, human interaction and reflects on the diversity of peoples/communities/ideas.

You either meet (1 point) or not meet (0 points) each objective. Highest possible score is 3 and lowest possible is 0. Because this is a large class not everyone will have the opportunity to make a presentation. Grading for this part of your grade will be as follows. If you are never called to present but turn in a write-up of your presentation (end of semester) you will receive 10 out of 10 points. If you are called but do not present for whatever reason you will earn 0 out of 10 points. If you are called and make a presentation you will receive 10 plus your rubric score points out of 10.

Class Attendance and Participation

Attendance in this course is measured by your on-time completion of homework and quizzes. The last homework assignment or quiz submitted for credit will be used to determine your last date of attendance.

Students are expected to attend all scheduled classes and may be dropped from the course for excessive absences. UTRGV's attendance policy excuses students from attending class if they are participating in officially sponsored university activities, such as athletics; for observance of religious holy days; or for military service. Students should contact the instructor in advance of the excused absence and arrange to make up missed work or examinations.

Grading Policies

The grade in this class will be a function of homework assignments, quizzes, presentation, two (2) midterm exams, and one (1) final exam. All homework assignments will be weighted to account for 20%, quizzes 20%, presentation 10%, each midterm exam 20%, and final exam 10% of final grade. The assignment of final grade will follow, a standard, grade distribution of 90-100%, "A" range, 80-89%, "B" range, 70-79%, "C" range, 60-69%, "D" range, 60%>, "F". Homework grade is based on the sum of your homework assignment points over total possible homework points. Quiz grade is simply the average of all your quiz scores.

Academic Integrity

As members of a community dedicated to Honesty, Integrity and Respect, students are reminded that those who engage in scholastic dishonesty are subject to disciplinary penalties, including the possibility of failure in the course and expulsion from the University. Scholastic dishonesty includes but is not limited to: cheating, plagiarism, and collusion; submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person; taking an examination for another person; any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student; or the attempt to commit such acts. Since scholastic dishonesty harms the individual, all students and the integrity of the University, policies on scholastic dishonesty will be strictly enforced (Board of Regents Rules and Regulations and UTRGV Academic Integrity Guidelines). All scholastic dishonesty incidents will be reported to the Dean of Students.

Sexual Harassment, Discrimination, and Violence

In accordance with UT System regulations, your instructor is a "responsible employee" for reporting purposes under Title IX regulations and so must report any instance, occurring during a student's time in college, of sexual assault, stalking, dating violence, domestic violence, or sexual harassment about which she/he becomes aware during this course through writing, discussion, or personal disclosure. More information can be found at www.utrgv.edu/equity, including confidential resources available on campus. The faculty and staff of UTRGV actively strive to provide a learning, working, and living environment that promotes personal integrity, civility, and mutual respect in an environment free from sexual misconduct and discrimination.

Students with Disabilities

If you have a documented disability (physical, psychological, learning, or other disability which affects your academic performance) and would like to receive academic accommodations, please inform your instructor and contact Student Accessibility Services to schedule an appointment to initiate services. It is recommended that you schedule an appointment with Student Accessibility Services before classes start. However, accommodations can be provided at any time. Brownsville Campus: Student Accessibility Services is located in Cortez Hall Room 129 and can be contacted by phone at (956) 882-7374 (Voice) or via email at ability@utrgv.edu. Edinburg Campus: Student Accessibility Services is located in 108 University Center and can be contacted by phone at (956) 665-7005 (Voice), (956) 665-3840 (Fax), or via email at ability@utrgv.edu.
